Director's Notes

Dear Patrons of KRT,

What an honor to get the opportunity to direct Washington Irving's classic tale, The Legend of Sleepy Hollow at Kincaid Regional Theatre. This season's version of the story was written by Tracy Wells, and includes a fun mix of light-hearted comedy, with an additional eerie setting in the woods outside of Sleepy Hollow. This version also includes multiple endings which will keep the audience guessing who the cloaked story teller is.

The main theme of The Legend of Sleepy Hollow is timeless and universal. It explores the power of imagination, the dangers of small town superstition, and the importance of critical thinking, set against the backdrop of a haunting story that has entertained readers for generations. This timeless tale twists together elements of horror, romance, and mystery, creating a story that is both enjoyable and thought-provoking.

Tonight you will see some familiar characters and be introduced to a few fascinating new ones. It is our hope that you will be just as enchanted by this adaptation as you have in the past and remember to beware the night, for you never know who you will encounter in the town of Sleepy Hollow.

There is no way to calculate the total impact, amount or number of R.C. Durr's gifts while he was alive but since his passing and as of this writing in 2019, the Durr Foundation has made more than 1,100 grants with a total giving in excess of $25,000,000.00.

Beneficiaries of the Foundation include scholarship funds for educational institutions and funding to non-profit organizations providing food, clothing and shelter, transportation, medical and dental care for the indigent, and needs of the very young and very old and for persons with developmental disabilities. The Foundation also provides funding to assist in the development of livable communities, business incubation, future leadership development, and public health.
